“Lucid Dreaming”

A BREAKDOWN OF THE CLEANUP
1
Brain cells perform autophagy ("self eating"), mopping up diseased and damaged bits of protein and metabolic waste.
2
Special nervous system cells sweep in to scavenge additional waste.
3
The glymphatic system flushes out dirty fluid and molecules from inside the brain tissue through a network of pathways. Clean cerebrospinal fluid replaces it.
4
Lymphatic vessels surrounding the brain deliver the waste to the lymphatic system, which rids the body of toxins, waste and other unwanted material.

Dear Diary:
Last weekend was really amazing. I went to the trip with my friends. We drove to the beach in the morning. After we ate brunch, we went out to some island for snorkling for couple of hours. Then we had to hurd to go to the nearby waterfall. At the waterfall, we walked up the hill for a mile. When we arrived we saw an amazing view of the waterfall! The water was so clear and not so crowded at all. I felt really good after a long walk. We hung out there for about an hour and came back to the town for dinner. We rent a hotel for 2 nights. After dinner, we went to the night stand nearby and bought lots of cool stuffs for our family. Then we went back to our hotel around 10 pm.
I remember but only for three of us. Back a chance that night; only. Tomorrow we will start a journey again.?
